Learn how to survive in today's crushing compliance climate!

- Are you aware of new HIPAA rules that go into effect September 23?
- Are you ready for enforcement of Medicare's face-to-face requirements on October 1?
- Are you keeping up with policy changes and audits by Jurisdiction B DME MAC?
- How is your Medicare documentation faring in today's crushing audit environment?

These questions and more will be answered at the OAMES 2013 Summer Camp! While the HME industry is besieged with the expansion of the Medicare bidding program and other state and federal government initiatives, our businesses are warring a battle of their own to remain compliant on regulations and survive the scrutiny of audits.

This year's event has been designed to help your staff gain the practical knowledge and confidence you need to minimize the impact of these overpowering issues. We've assembled an outstanding team of speakers to focus exclusively on today's hot compliance topics.

The program will feature:

- New HIPAA Rules – Effective September 23 – CMS just finalized the new HIPAA requirements and the rules for “covered entities and business associates” will go into effect on Sept. 23. This final rule clarifies a wide range of issues involving the privacy and security of protected health information (PHI), obligations of business associates; restrictions on the use of patient contact lists; security standards for mobile devices and social networking; and a number of other PHI issues.
- New Medicare Face-to-Face Rule – Enforcement Begins October 1 – Despite the delay for enforcement of these requirements, providers need to be preparing for this change and setting up processes to be ready on Oct. 1. While the industry continues to gather more detail from CMS, this session will review what we know, what will be finalized and provide tips on how to operationalize these important rule changes for full compliance this fall.
- Jurisdiction B DME MAC Update –Jurisdiction B DME MAC representative Nina Gregory, LPN, will be attending to provide an in-person update on a variety of Medicare topics. She will provide an overview of the latest medical policy changes and audit activities and will review the types of documentation a reviewer is expecting to see in the medical record, provide information regarding how the claims are reviewed during an audit, the errors being made, and what suppliers are to do in order to correct the errors.
- Medicare Documentation Best Practices – The last session of the day focuses on tried-and-true practices for HME companies to efficiently and successfully manage the tedious work of obtaining proper Medicare documentation. Companies can no longer simply get the information necessary to get claims paid, but must secure thorough documentation that will withstand an audit. She will share a variety of tools to help your company streamline its processes to not only manage the documentation process, but minimize any negative impact of Medicare audits on your business.
